25X1

Schoenwalde airfield. Aircraft wrecks were stored near the fuel containers in the southwestern section of the field. The occupation of the barracks installation was estimated at about 1,500 men. Not all of the buildings observed were lighted at night. Most of the troops observed wore red-bordered black epaulets, and some of them wore artillery insignia. Only about one third of the soldiers quartered in the barracks installation wore black-bordered blue epaulets.
